

For Immediate Release

Press contact:
Martha Huizenga
O: 202-546-5898
pr@dcaccess.net

DC ACCESS PROVIDES FREE WIRELESS TO BENEFIT AUCTION

Washington, DC, March 20, 2006 - DC Access, a Washington, DC-based ISP, announced today that it would be donating free wireless Internet for the 9th Jazz Gala & Auction, benefiting student programs at SWS at Peabody, a DC public school. The event will be held on March 25, 2006, 7pm at St. Mark's Episcopal Church located at 3rd and A Streets SE.

“Being involved in the community is an important part of our business here on Capitol Hill,” said Martha Huizenga, marketing relations and sales for DC Access. “Being able to provide free wireless for events like the SWS Gala and Auction enables us to give back to the community that supports our business.”

ABOUT DC ACCESS, LLC

Founded in 1999, DC Access is Washington's DC first and only wireless Internet service provider (WISP). The company also offers dial-up access and web hosting. DC Access has earned a reputation for offering reliable, affordable and personal service to its customers. Privately held, DC Access is headquartered on Capitol Hill. For more information on DC Access, please visit <http://www.dcaccess.net/>.

ABOUT SWS at Peabody

SWS at Peabody is a teacher-directed DC Public School. It operates under the direct authority of DCPS. The six teachers are responsible for the management and supervision of all school functions including personnel, enrollment, budget, curriculum, and school climate. Our mission is to support and develop children's potential through a child-centered, collaborative teaching and learning environment inspired by the philosophy and practice of the Reggio Schools in Reggio Emilia, Italy. For more information about SWS, please visit, <http://www.swspeabody.org/>.